UNITED METHODIST CHURCH VOTES TO KEEP BAN ON GAY CLERGY ORDINATION

Philadelphia, PA USA, 26 February 2019

By Emmanuel Abalo

The United Methodist Church (UMC) at a Special Session in Missouri, the United States, on Tuesday voted to maintain its stance against lesbians, bisexuals, gays, transgenders and gay clergy*. Reports of proceedings monitored by African Star say delegates at the Special Session of the second largest Protestant denomination of about 12,6 million people worldwide voted at the end of their meeting to maintain their opposition to same-sex marriage and gay clergy.

The decision is a victory for the conservative wing of the Church which drew support from the African Conference which is opposed to any liberalisation of Church doctrine to allow for ordination of gay clergy and performing marriage of same-sex couples. Vocal delegates from conservative areas in and out of the US played a pivotal role in defeating the 'One Plan' stream which was supported by the Council of Bishops as a way to sidestep the gay issue and leave it up to local dioceses to decide on them. Delegates instead opted to approve the 'Traditional Plan' which maintained a ban on the ordination of gay clergy and clergy performing wedding ceremonies of same-sex couples.

Following the vote, a delegate from the United Methodist Church in Liberia, West Africa, Reverend Jerry Kulah, said, 'The progressive groups are loud, but they don't have the numbers,' adding that, if the United Methodist Special Conference had voted to accept LGBT inclusion, it would have become a 'laughing stock' in Africa. 'I'm happy to go back to old ladies and old men in villages who received the Bible from missionaries and let them know that the Bible hasn't changed,' the Liberian Methodist prelate said.

The General Conference and Methodists worldwide had been dealing with this contentious issue which has threatened to divide the Church. Methodists now have to work to heal the hurt and divisions and reconcile from the bruising fight on gay issues.

*clergy: designated religious leader by means of ordination

LGBT: lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender prelate: a church official of higher rank

NORTHERN IRELAND CONFLICT

By Michael Hirst
BBC News
Published 14 April 2021

Nearly 90 police officers have been hurt in Northern Ireland's worst street violence for years, after sporadic rioting in several towns and cities since the end of March. The governments in Belfast, London and Dublin have condemned the unrest, with the US calling for calm as police used water cannons for the first time in six years. Eighteen people have been arrested and 15 charged after crowds of predominantly loyalist youths attacked lines of riot police officers and vehicles with bricks, fireworks and petrol bombs.

Violence involving gangs of youths started on 29 March in an area of Londonderry that is loyalist – in favour of keeping Northern Ireland as part of the United Kingdom. On the night of 7 April, the fighting spilled over a so-called peace wall in west Belfast that divides predominantly Protestant loyalist communities from predominantly Catholic nationalist communities who want to see a united Ireland. A gate that divides the two was smashed open and, during several hours of disorder, police officers and a press photographer were attacked and a bus was hijacked and burned.

The clashes raised concerns of escalating sectarian tensions. Parts of Northern Ireland are still split along sectarian lines, 23 years after a peace deal largely ended the Troubles in Northern Ireland – which lasted almost 30 years and cost the lives of more than 3 500 people.

While there are no clear indications that the unrest is being orchestrated by an organised group, the violence has been concentrated in areas where criminal gangs linked to loyalist paramilitaries have significant influence.

QUESTION 5

Read the article below and answer the questions that follow.

THE RELIGIOUS BASIS FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, TOLERANCE AND RESPECT

In the early 2000s, there was an uproar in France when young Muslim girls tried to attend schools wearing traditional Muslim dress. The French say, 'You are free to practise your religion in religious or private buildings, but not on government property'. Yet, this very law is forcing traditional Muslims to 'sin' against their religion, in France.
